Silo

Endless possibilities.

The Silo table system expands upon the ingenious Blade hub system to provide unlimited table configurations using a flexible range of standard components.

Silo features sleek leg cap details against cylindrical steel legs which can either add contrast to the frame, or match for a more subtle effect.

Using one leg profile, one hub (either fixed or flexible) and one rail, the possibilities are never ending.

With the option to add castors to any frame, the Silo Table System is the perfect solution for the modern agile workplace.

The Silo Mezzanine Frame provides a seamless transition from seated to standing heights, with the option to add a modesty panel between levels.

The curved leg cap detail adds to Silo's sleek aesthetic, while the subtle cable management cut-out detail at the rear of the foot increases functionality.
