Patryk Koca Designed for Modularity

The Designer

Patryk Koca is a Sydney based product designer, who likes to converge his experiences into practical solutions through problem solving, craftsmanship, technology, and a strong focus on sustainability.

Patryk has a strong reputation within the furniture industry. He began collaborating with Thinking Works in 2022 to develop a soft seating and acoustic range with the aim of pushing the boundaries of clever design for the workplace and challenging the limits of Australian manufacturing. In keeping with Thinking Works ethos, this range was driven by elements of surprise, practical functionality, and a focus on workplace well-being.

The result is CIRCOLO - a broad collection of soft modular seating with exquisite finishes and infinite possible configurations, which makes it adaptable to the evolving needs of the modern work environment.

CIRCOLO

Meet the Range

CIRCOLO is a smart and infinitely modular soft seating collection that harnesses the need for both agility and acoustic comfort.

Designed through the exploration of logical geometry, the collection is a contrast between curvature and the straight angular with a twist of playful softness.

The upholstery design allows opportunities for the specifier to create unique colour combinations for each project.

Pieces including ottomans, loose and modular seating and booths, complement each other to create a setting suitable for multiple use in commercial environments.
